A Rustic Glam Wedding at Beech Spring Farm in Orrtanna, Pennsylvania

After battling cancer together, the first thing Brianna Stevenson (25 and a wedding photographer) and Justin Stevenson (25 and a mechanical engineer) wanted to do was get married. "I didn't care if I got the huge proposal with flowers and notes and a big surprise, I just wanted to be his wife, plain & simple," Brianna says. "We were ready to be happy, healthy and together." Justin proposed just a few weeks after being declared cancer free, and the couple got cracking with the wedding planning process. They chose "rustic glam" as the theme and selected a jewel tone color palette with plum, fuchsia, blush and ivory for their fall celebration at Beech Spring Farm. "We wanted a sophisticated, glamorous barn wedding that incorporated farm tables, champagne colored sequins, market lights, and leaf garlands," Brianna says. Guests were greeted outside the barn by a vintage dresser that acted as the welcome table and featured wine bottle guest books. Above it, painted gold bottles filled with roses hung from tree branches for a touch of whimsy. Similar flower arrangements made up the centerpieces on the rustic wooden reception tables. Ethereal eucalyptus leaf garlands wreathed the dining tables and the antique dessert display, which featured an assortment of delicious pies. And those are just a few of the gorgeous highlights from Brianna and Justin's beautiful wedding. Check out more of the amazing details, captured by Lauren Fair Photography, below!
